Nissan Data Scan 2 Crack

Nissan DataScan II also supports Innovate Motorsports wideband air/fuel ratio meters. The second serial port is used to connect to the controller. After connecting and configuring the sensor, it is necessary to determine the type of fuel using the Nissan DataScan II program. To do this, use the pressure sensor in the fuel system of the engine and the pressure in the fuel system of the injector to determine the type of fuel used by the machine. The fuel type is determined by the formula:  $R=1.12*P+1.03$ , where R is the type of fuel, P is the absolute pressure specified in the data sheet.
